IDENAx FAQs

General FAQs

What is IDENAx?

IDENAx is a discreet, compact, intravaginal self-defense device designed to empower individuals in situations of potential assault. It activates during forced penetration, deploying barbs that attach to the attacker, causing pain and immobilization. The device remains attached until removed by a medical professional

How does IDENAx work?

IDENAx utilizes barbs that engage upon forced penetration, ensuring the attacker cannot easily remove it. The barbs cause pain and restrict movement, requiring medical assistance for removal. It is designed for safety, comfort, and ease of use

What happens if IDENAx is misused?

Intentional misuse may lead to injuries, legal consequences, or prosecution. IDENAx is strictly for self-defense.

Can the rapist turn IDENAx in-side-out and reinsert it back into the women?

No. The design of IDENAx makes this impossible.

Can the hooks/barbs engage the woman after being inserted?

No. The barbs are only on the interior of the device. There is a protective barrier preventing any contact between the barbs and the woman wearing the device.

Can the IDENAx get “lost” inside my body?

No. In addition to the cervix being too small, the walls of the vagina will hold the IDENAx in place until you decide it is time to remove it.

What happens when he gets soft/ flaccid?

The IDENAx Device was designed to be able to adjust to a wide range of penis diameters, including penis on the “small” size or when the penis is flaccid. The outer sheath is very elastic and can stretch to accommodate large penis diameters as well. The hard, pointed barbs project deep into the inner cavity of the IDENAx device, ensuring the barbs penetrate deep into the shaft of the penis, even if it is flaccid. The direction of the barbs are pointed inward, to allow the penis to enter without any obstruction, but dig in when the penis tries to withdraw. The harder you attempt to pull the device off, the deeper the barbs will dig in and more painful it will become (Think “Chinese Finger Trap” practical joke device). Furthermore, the outer sheath acts like a compression stocking, driving in the barbs and keeping them in contact with the penis at all times whether it is erect or flaccid or “small”. So the simple answer is “No, it will not come off of a small or flaccid penis”.

Can't the assailant remove IDENAx himself by cutting it with scissors?

Embedded in the elastic protective sheath is a web of hard plastic material with the barbs. The elastic sheath keeps the device in tight contact against the skin of the penis. The sheath is very thick and durable and not easy to cut. The hard internal webbing is even more difficult to cut. It would be very difficult and risky for an untrained assailant to attempt to remove the device from himself with a pair of scissors or pocket knife, without the HIGH risk of cutting himself or causing permanent and serious injury. In addition, the assailant will be in severe and debilitating pain, that will limit his ability to control delicate motor skills needed to conduct surgery on himself. This is why we STRONGLY recommend this device is ONLY removed by a qualified clinician. On the chance that the assailant would attempt to remove the device himself, it provides the woman ample time to escape or fight back, as she chooses. All materials are hypoallergenic and have undergone biocompatibility testing.

Will the IDENAx be visible to the rapist?

No. The entire device is contained within the vaginal canal of the woman and not visible externally.

Will I be attached to the rapist if I use the Device?

No. When the rapist withdraws his penis, the IDENAx will be firmly attached to him by the barbs and be withdrawn from the woman.

How many hours can IDENAx be inserted and worn?

IDENAx can be worn for up to 8 hours.

Can I insert IDENAx whilst menstruating?

Yes. The protective barrier on the device does not absorb liquids and will repel body fluids. It cannot be used at the same time as a tampon is used. It should be used with an external sanitary pad.

Is there a risk of toxic shock Syndrome ?

Unlike tampons, IDENAx is not made of absorbent material. Absorbency is the the main risk associated with TSS. The protective barrier will repel the woman's body fluids, further reducing any chance of TSS.

WARNING SIGNS OF TOXIC SHOCK SYNDROME ARE, FOR EXAMPLE, SUDDEN FEVER (USUALLY 102° F OR MORE), VOMITING, DIARRHEA, FAINTING OR NEAR FAINTING WHEN STANDING UP, DIZZINESS, OR A RASH THAT LOOKS LIKE A SUNBURN. IF THESE SIGNS OR OTHER SIGNS OF TSS APPEAR, YOU SHOULD REMOVE THE DEVICE AT ONCE, DISCONTINUE USE, AND SEE YOUR DOCTOR IMMEDIATELY.

What happens if IDENAx is misused?

Intentional misuse may lead to injury, legal consequences, or prosecution. It is strictly for self-defense

Is it possible for a woman to frame a male perpetrator?

A woman does not need IDENAx to frame anyone. Today, she can make a false claim of assault WITHOUT using IDENAx , it does not change this situation one way or the other.

Will the rapist become more violent once IDENAx attaches to him?

Responses from convicted rapists who have seen IDENAx explained, "Rape is difficult to prove, the police don't treat this as a serious crime, and it is likely I will not be caught or convicted at all....and if I do the punishment for rape is "light". If I was 'tagged' or Impaled by (IDENAx and therefore I will be caught and face incarceration) I would not escalate the crime from rape to additional assault or murder charges." Based on results of interviews FBI conducted with rape victims, 9/10 victims felt they faired better by resisting/fighting back than by submitting.
